Mr. Phil Angelides
Chairman
Financial Crisis Inquiry Commission
1717 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
Suite 800
Washington, DC 20006-4614

Dear Chairman Angelides:

Throughout our nation's history, oversight has been recognized as an essential duty and right of Congress, essential to preventing the misuse of taxpayer funds appropriated for public purposes. The FCIC has received, in two congressional appropriations, $9.8 million in taxpayer funds.¹

As I understand it, employees of the Financial Crisis Inquiry Commission ("FCIC") are required to sign a Confidentiality and Nondisclosure Agreement (the "CNDA") as a condition of their employment. The CNDA putatively grants the FCIC the right to pursue legal action against current and former employees for commenting on the FCIC's work or their role as a participant in the FCIC's work outside of the FCIC.² I recognize that the CNDA plays a role in preventing the inappropriate disclosure of confidential and sensitive business information obtained by the FCIC to unauthorized third parties and that the absence of such precautions could hamper the FCIC's ability to perform its duties.

It has come to my attention, however, that some employees of the FCIC may have been misled to believe that the CNDA also prohibits them from cooperating with congressional oversight of the FCIC's activities. You should be aware that the CNDA does not apply to communications between current or former FCIC employees and Members of Congress or their staff.

As I am sure you recognize, in addition to access to people with relevant knowledge, access to relevant documents is also an important part of congressional oversight. Therefore, I am also writing to ask that you refrain from destroying any documents or deleting any emails which preserve a historical record of the FCIC's activities and which may therefore be necessary for Congress to perform its oversight responsibilities in a thorough manner.

Please let me know no later than close of business on Monday, November 29, 2010, if you have a different view about the non-applicability of the FCIC's CNDA to congressional oversight and whether you will comply with my request to not destroy documents and emails.

Please contact Christopher Hixon or Brien Beattie of the Committee staff at (202) 225-5074 if you have any questions regarding these issues.

Sincerely,

Darrell Issa
Ranking Member

Mr. Christopher Hixon
Senior Counsel
U.S. House of Representatives
Committee on Oversight and Government Reform
B350A Rayburn House Office Building
Washington, DC 20515

Dear Mr. Hixon:

Chairman Angelides has asked me to respond to Congressman Issa's letter of November 22, 2010 regarding the Financial Crisis Inquiry Commission (the "Commission").

As the Commission has been dedicating its full efforts to producing its report to the President, Congress and the American people about the causes of the financial crisis that has devastated our economy and the lives of so many Americans, and given the Thanksgiving holiday, we are unable to respond more fully to your letter today. But we will be providing a more detailed response soon.

Please be advised that the Commission understands and supports the importance of appropriate congressional oversight and document preservation. We also take most seriously the integrity of our investigation, including our obligations with respect to confidentiality.

If you need any further information or have any questions, please feel free to contact me at 202 292 1339.

Very truly yours,

Gary J. Cohen
