

Chicago Tribune

September 1, 1998

Banking Scandal Could Cost Mexico $65 Billion

Paul de la Garza

Summary

After elections last year gave Mexico's opposition real power in Congress for the first time in decades, political opponents warned the once autocratic ruling party that it was payback time. No longer, the opposition warned, would the Institutional Revolutionary Party (PRI) get away with doling out government business to the rich and powerful, enabling government officials and their friends to line their pockets.

To view this article in its entirety please use the link provided below.

View Full Article

Recommended Citation

De la Garza, Paul. "Banking Scandal Could Cost Mexico $65 Billion." Chicago Tribune, September 1, 1998.
<https://chicagotribune.newspapers.com/image/169158519/?terms=Banking%20Scandal%20Could%20Cost%20Mexico%20%2465%20Billion&match=1>