

FEDERAL RESERVE press release

Release Date: March 16, 2008

For immediate release

The Federal Reserve on Sunday announced two initiatives designed to bolster market liquidity and promote orderly market functioning. Liquid, well-functioning markets are essential for the promotion of economic growth.

First, the Federal Reserve Board voted unanimously to authorize the Federal Reserve Bank of New York to create a lending facility to improve the ability of primary dealers to provide financing to participants in securitization markets. This facility will be available for business on Monday, March 17. It will be in place for at least six months and may be extended as conditions warrant. Credit extended to primary dealers under this facility may be collateralized by a broad range of investment-grade debt securities. The interest rate charged on such credit will be the same as the primary credit rate, or discount rate, at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Second, the Federal Reserve Board unanimously approved a request by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York to decrease the primary credit rate from 3-1/2 percent to 3-1/4 percent, effective immediately. This step lowers the spread of the primary credit rate over the Federal Open Market Committee's target federal funds rate to 1/4 percentage point. The Board also approved an increase in the maximum maturity of primary credit loans to 90 days from 30 days.

The Board also approved the financing arrangement announced by JPMorgan Chase & Co. and The Bear Stearns Companies Inc.

Program Terms and Conditions

The Federal Reserve Primary Dealer Credit Facility ("PDCF") is an overnight loan facility that provides funding to primary dealers in exchange for a specified range of eligible collateral in accordance with the program terms and conditions. All terms and conditions are subject to change.

Effective March 16, 2008

CURRENT TERMS AND CONDITIONS

PDCF Loans

Loans will be made available to primary dealers on an overnight basis for at least six months, or longer if conditions warrant. The interest rate charged on such credit will be the same as the primary credit rate in effect at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York ("FRBNY"). Primary dealers may secure loans under the PDCF with all collateral eligible for pledge in open market operations, plus investment grade corporate securities, municipal securities, mortgage-backed securities, and asset-backed securities. No non-priced collateral will be eligible for pledge under the PDCF.

Borrower Eligibility

Only primary dealers of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York are eligible to participate in the PDCF via their clearing banks.

Overnight Lending

Loans will settle on the same business day and will mature the following business day.

Eligible Collateral

Collateral eligible for pledge under the PDCF includes all collateral eligible for pledge in open market operations, plus investment grade corporate securities, municipal securities, mortgage-backed securities, and asset-backed securities. Collateral that is not priced by the clearing banks will not be eligible for pledge under the PDCF.

Rate

Loans made under the PDCF will be made at a rate equal to the primary credit rate in effect at the FRBNY offered to depository institutions via the Discount Window.

Frequency-Based Fee

Fees will be assessed to borrowers who access the PDCF on more than 30 business days out of 120 business days. Additional fees will be assessed beginning on the 31st business day, with the exact terms of this fee schedule to be determined in consultation with primary dealers.

Custody Rules and Arrangement

Dealers will communicate their demand for funding to their clearing banks. The clearing bank will verify that a sufficient amount of eligible collateral has been pledged by each primary dealer participating in the PDCF and notify the FRBNY accordingly. Once the FRBNY receives notice that a sufficient amount of margin-adjusted eligible collateral has been assigned to the FRBNY's account, the FRBNY will transfer the amount of the loan to the clearing bank for credit to the primary dealer.

Collateral Valuation

The pledged collateral will be valued by the clearing banks based on a range of pricing services.

Loan Size

Loans will be limited to the amount of margin-adjusted eligible collateral pledged by the dealer and assigned to the FRBNY's account at the clearing bank.

Recourse

Loans made under the PDCF are made with recourse beyond the pledged collateral to the primary dealer entity itself.

Program Termination

The PDCF will remain available to primary dealers for at least six months, or longer if conditions warrant.

Primary Dealer Credit Facility: Frequently Asked Questions

What is the Federal Reserve's Primary Dealer Credit Facility (PDCF)? Why are we introducing the PDCF and what are some of its terms?

The Primary Dealer Credit Facility (PDCF) is an overnight loan facility that will provide funding to primary dealers in exchange for a specified range of eligible collateral and is intended to foster the functioning of financial markets more generally.

Who can participate?

Eligible participants include all the primary dealers. They will participate through their clearing banks.

What are the terms of the loan?

Loans will settle on the same business day and will mature the following business day. The rate paid on the loan will be the same as the primary credit rate at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York. Currently, this rate is equal to the primary credit rate. In addition, primary dealers will be subject to a frequency-based fee after they exceed 30 days of use within the first 120 business days of the program. The frequency-based fee will be based on an escalating scale and communicated to the primary dealers in advance.

What is the rate of the loan?

The rate of the loan is the primary credit rate at the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, currently 25 basis points above the target federal funds rate.

What is the frequency-based fee and how is it determined?

The frequency-based fee is a fee schedule that will specify additional fees to be charged to dealers who access the facility on more than 30 business days out of 120 business days of the facility. Access to the facility on the 31st and subsequent days will result in additional fees to be paid by the dealer. The exact frequency-based fee schedule will be determined in consultation with the primary dealers and will be announced within 10 days.

What collateral is eligible for pledging?

Eligible collateral will include all collateral eligible for tri-party repurchase agreements arranged by the Federal Reserve Open Market Trading Desk, as well as all investment-grade corporate securities, municipal securities, mortgage-backed securities, and asset-backed securities for which a price is available.

Primary dealers should contact their clearing bank to request PDCF funds no later than 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time on business days.

How much can primary dealers borrow?

A primary dealer will be allowed to borrow up to the margin-adjusted collateral they can deliver to the Federal Reserve's account at the clearing banks.

How and when are the loans and collateral settled?

What are the differences between this and other recent initiatives?

The Term Auction Facility program offers term funding to depository institutions via a bi-weekly auction, for fixed amounts of credit. The Term Securities Lending Facility will be an auction for a fixed amount of lending of Treasury general collateral in exchange for OMO-eligible and AAA/Aaa rated private-label residential mortgage-backed securities. The Primary Dealer Credit Facility now allows eligible primary dealers to borrow at the existing Discount Rate for up to 120 days.

Will the PDCF operations have a reserve impact?

Yes, the credit advanced to the primary dealers under the PDCF will increase the amount of bank reserves.

How will we offset the reserve impact of

PDCF loans?

PDCF loans made to primary dealers increase the total supply of reserves in the banking system, in much the same way that Discount Window loans do. To offset this increase, the Federal Reserve Open Market Trading Desk (the "Desk") will utilize a number of tools, including, but not necessarily limited to, outright sales of Treasury securities, reverse repurchase agreements, redemptions of Treasury securities, and changes in the sizes of conventional RP transactions.

How is this different from discount window lending to depository institutions?

This differs from discount window lending to depository institutions in a number of ways. Currently, the primary credit facility offers overnight as well as term funding for up to 90 calendar days at the primary credit rate secured by discount window collateral to eligible depository institutions. The PDCF, by contrast, is an overnight facility that will be available to primary dealers (rather than depository institutions) for a period of 120 business days. The PDCF is subject to a frequency-of-usage fee, and the loans will be secured by a different basket of securities than those eligible for pledging at the discount window; in particular, only priced securities will be accepted in the PDCF.

What information regarding PDCF loans will be released to the public and how frequently?

Similar to loans made to depository institutions via the Discount Window, information on PDCF borrowing will be made available each Thursday, generally at 4:30 p.m., on Federal Reserve Statistical Release H.4.1 - Factors Affecting Reserve Balances of Depository Institutions and Condition Statement of Federal Reserve Banks. The H.4.1 release will contain the total amount of PDCF credit outstanding as of the close of business on the prior business day and the average daily amounts for each week.

Under what legal authority are PDCF loans made?

PDCF loans are made under Section 13(3) of the Federal Reserve Act.

How long will the PDCF be in operation?

The PDCF will remain in operation as long as is needed to provide funding to primary dealers in exchange for program eligible collateral and to foster the functioning of financial markets.
