

This research paper is published in the European Business Organization Law Review. To access this article in its entirety use the linked provided below.

View Full Article

European Business Organization Law Review 11: 527-548

527

© 2010 T.M.C.ASSER PRESS

doi:10.1017/S1566752910400026

Measures by the Austrian Regulatory Authorities in Response to the Financial Market Crisis

Susanne Kalss*

1.	Introduction.....	528
2.	Measures introduced in Austria	529
3.	Stimulation of the interbank market	529
3.1	Clearing house for loans	530
3.1.1	Issuance of securities by OeCAG	531
3.1.2	Liability for credit institutions' own issues.....	531
4.	Act on the Improvement of Corporate Liquidity (ULSG)	532
5.	Financial Market Stability Act.....	534
6.	Finanzmarkteteiligung Aktiengesellschaft (FIMBAG)	535
7.	Legal bases regulating the details	537
7.1	Financial Market Stability Act (FinStaG).....	538
7.2	Requirements Ordinance.....	538
7.3	Master agreement.....	539
7.4	Assumption Agreement between the Republic of Austria and FIMBAG ..	539
8.	Participation capital	540
8.1	General rules	540
8.2	Specific structuring of participation capital (state participation capital)	543
8.2.1	Individual requirements	545
8.2.2	Remuneration.....	545
9.	Summary.....	548

Abstract

The financial crisis has severely hit the Austrian banks and the financial market as a whole. Austrian banks sold 'Lehman-products' to a disproportionate extent, banks invested far too high amounts in Iceland, and finally and most importantly, Austrian banks did and are doing their main business in CEE countries, which have been heavily affected by the crisis.

* Professor of Civil and Commercial Law at the University of Economics and Business (WU Wien), Vienna, Austria.