

January 23, 2009

Indian cash rates ease on ample funds with banks

Summary

Indian cash rates ended lower in late January 2009 as most banks had secured funds for their reserve needs, and on surplus cash in the system after the central bank reduced the banks' reserve requirements.

To view this article in its entirety please use a content aggregation platform, such as Factiva.

---

Recommended Citation

Reuters News Staff. "Indian cash rates ease on ample funds with banks." Reuters News, January 23, 2009.