SEC. 33. SENSE OF THE CONGRESS RELATING TO PARTICIPATION OF DISABLED AMERICANS IN CONTRACTING FOR DELIVERY OF SERVICES TO FINANCIAL INSTITUTION REGULATORY AGENCIES.

(a) FINDINGS.—The Congress finds that Congress, in adopting the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, specifically found that—

(1) some 43,000,000 Americans have one or more physical or mental disabilities, and this number is increasing;

(2) discrimination against individuals with disabilities persists in such critical areas as employment, housing, public accommodations, education, transportation, communication, recreation, institutionalization, health services, voting, and access to public services;

(3) individuals with disabilities continually encounter various forms of discrimination, including outright intentional exclusion, the discriminatory effects of architectural, transportation, and communication barriers, overprotective rules and policies, failure to make modifications to existing facilities and practices, exclusionary qualification standards and criteria, segregation, and relegation to lesser services, programs, activities, benefits, jobs, or other opportunities;

(4) census data, national polls, and other studies have documented that people with disabilities, as a group, occupy an inferior status in our society, and are severely disadvantaged socially, vocationally, economically, and educationally;

(5) individuals with disabilities are a discrete and insular minority who have been faced with restrictions and limitations, subjected to a history of purposeful unequal treatment, and relegated to a position of political powerlessness in our society, based on characteristics that are beyond the control of such individuals and resulting from stereotypic assumptions not truly indicative of the individual ability of such individuals to participate in, and contribute to, society;

(6) the Nation's proper goals regarding individuals with disabilities are to assure equality of opportunity, full participation, independent living, and economic self-sufficiency for such individuals; and

(7) the continuing existence of unfair and unnecessary discrimination and prejudice denies people with disabilities the opportunity to compete on an equal basis and to pursue those opportunities for which our free society is justifiably famous, and costs the United States billions of dollars in unnecessary expenses resulting from dependency and nonproductivity.

(b) SENSE OF THE CONGRESS.—It is the sense of the Congress that the chief executive officer of the Resolution Trust Corporation, the Director of the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Chairperson of the Board of Directors of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Comptroller of the Currency, and the Chairperson of the Federal Housing Finance Board should take all necessary steps within each such agency to ensure that individuals with disabilities and entities owned by individuals with disabilities, including financial institutions, investment banking firms, underwriters, asset managers, accountants, and providers of legal services, are availed of all opportunities to compete in a manner which, at a minimum, does not discriminate on the basis of their disability for contracts entered into by the agency to manage the institutions and their assets for which the agency is responsible or to perform such other functions authorized under any law applicable to such agency.

SEC. 34. REPORT TO CONGRESS BY SPECIAL COUNSEL.

(b) CONTENTS.—The report required under subsection (a) shall include—

(1) information on the amount of fines and restitution assessed in cases involving fraud and other criminal activity in and against the financial services industry, the amount of such fines and restitution collected, and an explanation of any difference in those amounts;

(2) an explanation of the procedures for collecting and monitoring restitution assessed in cases involving fraud and other criminal activity in and against the financial services industry and any suggested improvements to such procedures;

(3) an explanation of the availability under any provision of law of punitive measures if restitution and fines assessed in such cases are not paid;

(4) information concerning the efforts by the Department of Justice to comply with guidelines for fine and restitution collection and reporting procedures developed by the inter-agency group established by the Attorney General in accordance with section 2539 of the Crime Control Act of 1990;
