

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Press Center

Secretary Paulson Works to Help Families Stay in their Homes

12/23/2007

 Photo: Secretary Henry Paulson, Jr.

2007-12-23-16-26-54-1301

U.S. Treasury Secretary Henry M. Paulson, Jr. wrapped up the year with a cross-country tour to hear from U.S. homeowners about their mortgage concerns. Secretary Paulson offered advice to struggling homeowners and discussed President Bush's initiative to help more families stay in their homes, including a market-based plan to reach more borrowers through streamlined refinancing and modifications.

- More on Mortgage Financing